

New developments in AIB

Dirk Van Evercooren- Open Markets Committee, 20 September 2018, Madrid

A look back on 2017 and first half of 2018

- Guarantees of Origin are now a widely accepted and understood instrument
- RED II turned out quite well, reinforcing the GO and expanding its scope to other energy types
- CEP is still not finished, Electricity Market Design is still out...
- AIB focused on the HUB and the quality assurance processes: audits, reviews, development of the EECS rules,...

AIB copyright © 2018. We reserve the rights in this document and in the information contained therein. Reproduction, use or disclosure to third parties without express authority is strictly forbidden. The AIB is a non-profit-making international association.

Developments relevant for GO market participants

- New member in 2018: Litgrid
- Carbon project had to be stopped
- New website – more user friendly for all!
 - Phase 1: current content in new tech framework/design (2018)
 - Phase 2: new bells and whistles (Q1 2019)
- Webinars
 - First one inspired by 2017 OMC: Finnish registry (internal)
- Statistics
 - Automation project for 2019

AIB copyright © 2018. We reserve the rights in this document and in the information contained therein. Reproduction, use or disclosure to third parties without express authority is strictly forbidden. The AIB is a non-profit-making international association.

What should AIB focus on with the new website?

- Statistics
- Market information
- News from AIB members
- New regulations
- Residual mix calculations
- Other?

Use second Sli.do poll

AIB copyright © 2018. We reserve the rights in this document and in the information contained therein. Reproduction, use or disclosure to third parties without express authority is strictly forbidden. The AIB is a non-profit-making international association.

AIB Secretariat
23 Station Road, Gerrards Cross,
Bucks SL9 8ES, United Kingdom
Telephone: +44 1494 681183
Email: secgen@aib-net.org
Website: www.aib-net.org

