HUB project

- What is the HUB?

Certificate trade is international. Besides an International standard AIB also provides a technical solution for exchanging certificates between the members. All members communicate to each other only by a simple connection to the HUB.

The HUB is the fundamental way for the AIB to enable the international certificate market.

HUB project

- Why do we need a new HUB?

To gain experience in operating a Hub, a simple messaging prototype was put in place in 2007 and it has functioned satisfactorily. We have gained a lot of experience and thus also came up with new functional wishes like more testing and reporting facilities. The new HUB is also prepared to handle the changes due to the RED and the improved PRO.

HUB project

- What are the consequences for the market?
- It is foreseen to have the new HUB in place before next summer (2011). The GM has decided to implement the new HUB at once / in a phased process <this has yet to be decided at the GM of 30-09-2010>
- The new HUB will be able to support :
 - the current certificate trade
 - disclosure certificates
 - certificates according to the new PRO
